

Winthrop-King Institute for CONTEMPORARY FRENCH AND FRANCOPHONE STUDIES and Department of Sociology
Florida State University

French and U.S. Anti-Discrimination Policy: Making a Difference

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE

Thursday, November 21 - Saturday, November 23, 2002

With affirmative action now under siege in the U.S. and anti-discrimination initiatives moving up the agenda in France, this international conference brings together leading researchers from both sides of the Atlantic to engage in a comparative dialogue on the most effective means of combating racial and ethnic discrimination. Topics include housing, employment, education, policing, the definition and use of ethnic categories, national, sub-national and supra-national initiatives, and personal versus institutional anti-racist strategies.

SPEAKERS INCLUDE

Erick Bleich – Middlebury College

Sophie Body-Gendrot – Université de Paris IV-Sorbonne

Adrian Favell – University of California at Los Angeles

Joe Feagin – University of Florida at Gainesville

Ofelia Garcia – Long Island University

John Goering – Baruch College, City University of New York

Diop Kamau – Florida State University

Michele Lamont – Princeton University

Françoise Lorcerie – Institut de Recherches et d'Etudes sur le Monde Arabe et Musulman, Aix-en-Provence

Olivier Noël – Institut Social et Coopératif de Recherche Appliquée, Montpellier

Suzanne Oboler – University of Illinois at Chicago

Patrick Simon – Institut National d'Etudes Démographiques, Paris

Catherine Wihtol de Wenden – Centre d'Etudes et de Recherches Internationales, Paris

For further information contact the conference organizers

Dr. Alec G. Hargreaves, Winthrop-King Institute, Ahargrea@mailer.fsu.edu, 850 644 8559

Dr. Melonie Heron, Department of Sociology, mheron@garnet.acns.fsu.edu, 850 644 1737

Dr. Shonna Trinch, Dept of Modern Languages, strinch@mailer.fsu.edu, 850 644 8181

Dr. Irene Padavic, Department of Sociology, ipadavic@garnet.acns.fsu.edu, 850 644 6416