GRADUATE CONFERENCE TRAVEL SUPPORT: ITALIAN

AIM: These awards are designed to enable current graduate students majoring in Italian with an active assistantship in the Department of Modern Languages and Linguistics to present papers at national, regional or international conferences, or to attend the MLA for job interviews.

In certain fields such as linguistics, applications in support of poster presentations at highly visible national or international conferences, will be considered where the applicant can show that the presentation has been accepted after peer review and will receive significant exposure during the conference.

Applications must be made for travel in the current or next semester, except in the case of attendance at the MLA for job interviews, after which funding may be requested the following February.

Awards cannot be taken up after graduation from FSU or in the semester in which the applicant expects to graduate.

Awards will not be granted for study on programs which FSU prohibits or discourages its students from attending, e.g. on the grounds of U.S. State Department travel warnings; awards may be withdrawn at any time on the grounds of revised FSU advice or prohibition.

Awards are subject to the availability of funding.
